Hi Carol, I am sorry to take so long to get back to you. I did receive the information that you sent. Thank you.
I am not sure if I can be of much help with John Cassin, but I will try. I work in downtown Buffalo, right across the street from Erie County Hall, so I tend to spend most of my lunch hours in the cellar of County Hall, searching through old records. I did go through the naturalization records, and could not come up with a listing for Mr.Cassin. The naturalization records for the late 1800's(and back) are some what indexed, but the index is not complete. The records for that time period give very little information about the individual involved. Usually all that is given is a name, date, length of time in this country, the name of the country being "renounced", and the names and signatures of two witnesses. I do go through the immagration every now and then, so I will keep John Cassin in . mind. Now for churches: St.Stephen's R.C. Church-193 Elk St. Buffalo, 14210, Phone-716-823-2358, and Sts. Columba/Brigid Parish, 418 North Division St. Buffalo, 14204, Phone 716-852-3331. Donation of $10.00 is required, send letter to attention of "Grace". She works there only on Wednesdays-but is very good. She knows latin, and can decipher the old records very well. You may also want to try Sts. Rita and Patrick R.C. Church, 102 Seymore St., Buffalo, 14210, phone- 716-856-5790. They will only address written requests, sent to Attention of "Donna". I would try Sts.Columba/Brigid Parish first. I have sent letters Sts Columba/Brigid and Sts. Rita and Patrick, and then made follow up calls, and have gotten very good results. I would bet my bottom dollar that if John Cassin, attended one of the churches that I listed, he is buried in Holy Cross Cemetery. Holy Cross dates back to pre-Civil War, and is where most of the Old First Ward Irish are buried. The address is: Holy Cross Cemetery, 2900 South Park Ave., Lackawanna, NY, 14218. Phone-716-823-1197. The biggest problem with contacting Holy Cross, is that some of the woman working in the office are not too helpful. (I have been told, they think they work for God himself.) Their records are on film, and there again, I do use the films alot, so if I come across John Cassin, I will let you know. There is a marine historial society you might want to contact. Its small, but I am told they do have alot of information about Buffalo's water front and lake history, Lower Lakes Marine Historial Society, 101 Great Arrow Ave., Buffalo, 14216, Phone-716-877-2559. There is one listing in the phone book for the name Cassin, it is:John A. Cassin, 282 Garden Parkway, Williamsville, NY, 14221, 716-632-1376. Good luck to you. Nancy F.

Hello Again!

O.K., some suggestions and some questions!

Have you tried the Area Research Center in Milwaukee? If not, do write to them with your problem.

In looking at the census records, both indexes and actual schedules, have you looked under KASSIN?

You said William HICKEY lived with them in 1860. What happens to William after that? Have you lost him also?

You mentioned that John was in directories after 1860? How far beyond 1860? What is the last time you have him in a Milwaukee City Directory? Any other CASSIN or KASSIN in the next directory?

You said brother Thomas and his wife are buried there. When did they die? If Thomas had an obituary, is there any mention of other family? Did Thomas have children?

Not in the Civil War you stated. Was he the right age? There may be poll lists for the county. Also, keep in mind that many of the immigrants in WI reacted violently to having to serve in the military. They emigrated in part to avoid that obligation and were often "a bit" upset when the C.W. put them back in that situation.

You mentioned tax records. Sometimes there are personal property tax lists. Check with the ARC --- they should know if they exist for Milwaukee and where they are.

Who owned the grocery he worked at? What happens to that person?

Oh yes, you mentioned they are not in the Milwaukee Death Index. What are you looking at? Have you looked at the Pre-1907 Fiche Index to Deaths? This covers all WI -- it may help you find people with the same name in other counties in the state.

Also, keep in mind that Milwaukee registered deaths do not start until 1872 (at least according to my most recent list from the State Historical Society of Wisconsin). HOWEVER, don't neglect the possibility of probate files. Those begin in Milwaukee County in 1838. Not everyone had one of course, but always worth checking! It appears that some of the counties in WI are now charging $4.00 to do a search for a probate file; some do not; there will be charges for copies of the file IF they find one.

Just checked the Member List to see where you are --- you are CERTAINLY in a good location to do research!! I have not researched there, but understand it is great.

When the sons and daughters die, is there any mention of their parents in their obits?

Any idea why they first went to Dayton and have you looked there for them AFTER Milwaukee?

Don't know if I have come up with anything productive for you, but hope something helps or gives you some new ideas.

Have a great day!

Carol; Stillwater, MN

Carol....I had a GGrandmother who was in a catholic nursing home. When she died there was no obit, although she had 10 living children. To find an obit on your grandfather you might want to write Springfield where they have other newspapers to check besides the Tribune. Read Loretto's book for more detail.

Carol....One other thought I forgot. If Grandmother's children lived in the "Chicago Area" could she have died at a hospital in one of the surrounding counties? Thus....no death certificate in Cook. Think maybe Lake, DuPage, or Kane

Just one more note.. we were at Old World Wiscosnin at Eagle last Thurs and the church they'd moved there had actually been moved to several parishs around Milwaukee over the years but started out (when dedicated) as St. Peters at State Street and Jackson..just a few locks from what's now St. Johns Cathedral. The church dates from, at least, the 1850's and the congregation supposedly split into Irish and German Catholic. While the building is at Eagle (and they do have further info there) the "historian" for this church is, apparently, a Father Fate or Faith at St Francis Seminary, 3257 S. Lake Drive, Milwaukee, WI 53207, (414) 747 6400. This church has been gone from the site for a long long time but might be the one you're looking for..Good Luck.

John, there's no Soundex for the 1860 and 1870 censuses. The 1880 Soundex includes only families with children ages 10 and under. Since you have not been able to find this family in any census from 1860 to 1910, the reasons may be: 1) They did not live there at particular dates; 2) You did not Soundex the name properly (or use the correct film number for 1880, 1900 and 1910); or 3) The name is spelled so differently you do not recognize it. It may be necessary to do a line-by-line search in the actual enumerations for this Cook County township in order to find them. Start with the 1920 enumeration and work backwards. Also, the Illinois State Archives, Archives Building, Springfield, IL 62756 has the 1865 Illinois state census. It is not fully indexed, but might prove helpful in your research.

Psalm CXXI

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help?
My help cometh from the Lord,
who made heaven and earth.
He will not suffer thy foot to be moved;
He that keepeth thee will not slumber.
Behold, He that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.
The Lord is thy keeper, the Lord is thy shade upon the right hand.
The sun shall not smite thee by day,
nor the moon by night.
The Lord shall preserve thy soul, the Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this day forth, and even for evermore.

WEST LAFAYETTE, INDIANA SPRING 2004

OUTSTANDING DELTA MUs RECOGNIZED

Delta Mu sister and 2002 Homecoming Queen Christi Klein crowned the 2003 Homecoming Queen, AΦ Adriana Bartucci, on October 4, 2003, at the Purdue vs. University of Illinois football game.

Phis Christi and Adriana have both been heavily involved on campus, spreading Purdue pride through activities such as Purdue Goldusters, Purdue Telefund and the Panhellenic Association.

Christi is currently a first-year law student at Valparaiso University, and Adriana will be graduating from Purdue in May. She hopes to pursue a career in television.

As queens and members of the Homecoming Court, they have participated in numerous charitable activities which benefited the community as well as improved our community/campus relationship.

Delta Mu Brooke Lynn Fletter proudly represented AΦ in the Greek Goddess competition. She raised the most money for the United Way Foundation of all the candidates—by more than $700! Brooke competed against four candidates in three categories: entertain the audience, question and answer and lip sync. Her hard work and dedication paid off when she was crowned the 2003 Greek Goddess! Brooke will be spending the spring semester in Chicago at Lutheran General Children's Hospital as a child life specialist intern before graduating from Purdue in August.

What Alpha Phi Means to Me

Exactly two years ago, I was contemplating whether I wanted to join a sorority or not. I decided to go through the recruitment process, and I truly believe it was fate that brought me to Alpha Phi.

It is in Alpha Phi that I have found the greatest treasures a person could possibly find. I have found these treasures through the friendships that I have made these past couple of years. Never in my life have I felt so close to a group of girls. I could never thank my sisters enough for being exactly who they are. Their hearts are big, their ears are always open and their smiles are contagious.

I've always dreamt of having friends as amazing as these women, and I have come to realize that some dreams do come true! It's only been a short time, but I feel closer to these women than I do with friends I've had my entire life. They always say that the friendships you make in college are the friendships you take with you once you are out in the "real world." I strongly believe this because I cannot imagine my life without any of them.

There is no way that I could walk away from a single one of my sisters when my years here at Purdue are up. Each has a part of my heart, and it is each one of them who make me exactly who I am.

The dictionary defines a friend as one attached to another by affection and esteem, but these women mean so much more to me! Not only do I call them my friends, I am so proud to call them my sisters. I've never had real sisters until they came into my life. I love them dearly and living under the same roof makes my life brighter, even on the cloudiest of days.

I'm often the one joking around about something, but as we slowly begin to go our separate ways in life, I am serious in wanting to take this opportunity to tell my sisters how special they are to me. I know that I would not be nearly as happy without them. I honestly do love them. It is so hard to put into words exactly how I feel about these women, but I know that every smile that I see here is sincere, each hug is genuine and each friend made here at Alpha Phi would never let you down!

We are all tied together by our memories, tears, laughs, smiles and love for each other. Chance made us sisters, but love made us friends!

Alison Jung

2003: 'The Year of the Phis'

In 2003, the Alpha Phis took Purdue University by storm! We have never had such a successful year in our sisterhood, scholarship and service. Here's a list of some of the highlights:

- Thirty sisters made Purdue University Dean's List by earning a GPA above 3.5.
- Ten sisters achieved a semester GPA of 4.0—perfect!
- We have contributed $330 to philanthropies benefiting Big Brothers/Big Sisters, The Boys & Girls Clubs of America, breast cancer research, the American Cancer Society and a variety of other organizations.
- Our two philanthropies raised more than $1,500 for the Alpha Phi Foundation.
- Delta Mu President Adriana Bartucci was crowned 2003 Homecoming Queen and received the crown from last year's Homecoming Queen and Alpha Phi Christi Klein.
- Our own Brooke Fletter was crowned the 2003 Greek Goddess at Slayter Hill in front of hundreds of Purdue Greeks.
- Eight sisters were accepted into the Study Abroad program and traveled to Italy, London, Spain and Australia.

ALPHA PHI IS NUMBER ONE!

Through hard work and dedication, Alpha Phi won the intramurals competition for the 1998-99 season. We were so successful that we beat all of the other teams by over 120 points!

Our opponents were various sororities and co-op houses on campus. During the year, we participated in numerous sports, such as flag football, tennis, soccer, wallyball and many more.

Our personal best occurred in basketball, as we went to the school finals and won the championship. The whole house came out to support our talented team.

We also managed to place first or second in a little more than half of the sports in which we participated. We really gained a reputation throughout the Greek community as a very athletic house and we are proud to stand behind that label!

Our shining moment, though, occurred later in September when we got to go in front of the entire Greek community at Chapter of Chapters to accept our first-place trophy!

Changes Around the Alpha Phi House

Throughout last spring and summer, the Delta Mu Chapter house experienced many renovations.

At the beginning of the spring semester, the front stairs were rebuilt to improve house safety. When deciding on a style, the House Corporation Board wanted to preserve the traditional look of the house, so they went with a '60s style. The stairs now extend straight from the door without a curve.

Along with the change in the position of the front stairs, the old stairs were torn down and a new patio was installed. This allows enough room for outside patio furniture, which will be provided by the Parents Club.

By the end of September, we were hoping to have the landscaping finished and to finally have a front lawn again.

One last renovation that occurred to the house was its change in color. The house's original white began to get dingy looking, so the House Corporation Board decided to pick a new one. It is now a new light cream color that makes the house look more "earthy." The house also does not stand out as much and looks a lot newer.

The funding for these projects was

Greek Open Supports Charity

This fall, Alpha Phi and Pi Kappa Phi once again hosted the Greek Open. The sixth annual Greek Open philanthropy was held on September 12 at the Ravines Golf Course.

The goal of this tournament was to raise money for our philanthropic organizations—Pi Kappa Phi's national philanthropy, PUSH America, and the Alpha Phi Foundation, which continues its support of the American Heart Association. Alpha Phi donates more than $35,000 to cardiac care programs, as well as $85,000 to scholarships for leadership and development training. We are proud to be contributors to such a worthy cause.

On the day of the philanthropy, the Alpha Phi sisters and Pi Kapp brothers were caddies for the numerous fraternity and sorority members playing in the tournament. At each hole, the players had an opportunity to win different prizes provided by area businesses. Through the sponsors, T-shirt sales and playing fees, we met our goal of $2,000!

Alpha Phis Know How to Have Fun

Alpha Phi has a fun-filled calendar of social events, ranging from dances to theme parties, that will carry us into the new millennium. The semester started with a bang as Purdue's football team had its first game, against Notre Dame, on September 11. We also prepared for the many cookouts and parties that we will have at Phi Kappa Psi, the fraternity we are paired with for football. The biggest football related event, of course, was the Homecoming game on October 16 against Michigan State—all alumnae were encouraged to join us at ΦΚΨ for the best cookout in town.

Soon to come will be our infamous Barn Dance, for which we rent a three-story barn and DJ and spend the night dancing and bonding with all of our closest friends. Later in the semester, we have our popular Bordeaux Ball and our Christmas formal.

Last, but not least, we will have our once-a-semester spontaneous. No details, ladies—I wouldn't want to spoil the surprise!

December 2005

Dear Harry,

I hope you and your family are well.

It is difficult to believe Christmas is here already—I don't know where the time has gone!

I am still taking care of two houses—my mother's and ours. My mother is 89 now, and she is still in pretty good health. I try to take her out every day, because not being able to read or drive are her biggest problems. But that means I am behind in doing things at home.

Shelley is still happy living in North Carolina. That is 11 ½ hours away, so we do not see her very often. North Carolina is beautiful, and the weather there is much better than ours. Maybe when Lenard retires we will move there!

Shelley's husband's father Larry Westendorf, Senior, died this month from cancer. He was a very good friend, and we will miss him.

Larry Gene Westendorf, Senior born 21 November 1938 in Fort Wayne, Indiana died 1 December 2005 in Fort Wayne, Indiana

Julie is still a special education teacher in Elkhart, Indiana; but she would like to move to North Carolina also.

Michael has a job in nearby Columbia City, attends college part-time, and also has his own business repairing computers in peoples' homes. If I have a computer problem, I can never find him!

Lenard is 63 now and still working. His supervisor asked him to stay for another year to train supervisors, and he agreed. I don't believe I can ever retire.

I hope you and your family have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Warsaw rapist petitions board for clemency

By Dionne Waugh
The Journal Gazette

A Warsaw man who abducted and raped a woman with his girlfriend's help in 1995 is seeking clemency from the Indiana Parole Board this month.

A Kosciusko County judge sentenced Jeffrey B. Flora, then 24, to 50 years in prison in 1996 after he pleaded guilty to rape, criminal deviate conduct and criminal confinement.

Flora, now 35, abducted a then 39-year-old woman as she walked along Winona Avenue in Warsaw in July 1995.

Flora, who had previous convictions for armed robbery and burglary, and his girlfriend demanded money. Then they took the woman behind a house where Flora raped her and the girlfriend prevented her from leaving.

During the ordeal, which lasted several hours, Flora and the girlfriend took the woman to her house, drove her car to northwest Indiana and discussed killing her before deciding to return to Warsaw, where the woman escaped.

Then-Kosciusko County Prosecutor David Kolbe said Flora's actions were atrocious, predatory and "absolutely evil."

"He has destroyed her," Kolbe said in court. "I don't know that she'll ever recover from this."

He read from the victim's statement, which said, "Jeffrey Flora robbed me of my dignity and my serenity."

Flora's girlfriend, Lisa Sammut, then 21, of Warsaw, pleaded guilty to criminal confinement and was ordered to serve 15 years of a 20-year sentence.

She has since been released from prison.

Hearings scheduled

Flora is one of several people scheduled for clemency, parole or pardon hearings before the Indiana Parole Board through May 31.

Clemency is granted by the governor after he receives a non-binding recommendation by the parole board.

Clemency does not allow an inmate to be immediately released, but it does allow the offender to be eligible for an earlier hearing before the parole board.

Parole is the early release of inmates. The parole board can grant an early release for:

◆ Inmates convicted of crimes committed before Oct. 1, 1977.

◆ Inmates convicted of crimes after Oct. 1, 1977, if the inmates have been granted clemency.

Inmates convicted of crimes committed after Oct. 1, 1977, can earn early release through good behavior or educational accomplishments.

Those inmates can earn as much as one day of credit for each day of good behavior.

Additional time off can be earned by obtaining a GED or an associate's or bachelor's degree.

The following is a list of inmates with hearings scheduled before the Indiana Parole Board, the crimes for which they were sentenced, the original date of sentencing and the length of the sentence.

The county listed is where the case was originally heard:

Clemency

◆ Jeffrey B. Flora, Kosciusko County, rape, criminal deviate conduct and criminal confinement. Sentenced Aug. 2, 1996, to 50 years. Hearing 9 a.m. May 9. Wabash Valley Correctional Facility via videoconference.

Parole

◆ Cedric Ford, Allen County, rape. Sentenced June 16, 1988, to 30 years. Hearing 8 a.m. May 2. Indiana State Prison via videoconference.

◆ Rodney Balser, Allen County, armed robbery. Sentenced March 2, 2001, to 10 years. Hearing 8 a.m. May 3. Westville Correctional Facility via videoconference.

◆ Larry Scott, Allen County, burglary. Sentenced March 13, 2001, to 15 years. Hearing 8 a.m. May 3. Westville Correctional Facility via videoconference.

◆ Patrick Mojet, Allen County, dealing cocaine. Sentenced Nov. 4, 2002, to six years. Hearing 8 a.m. May 24. Putnamville Correctional Facility via videoconference.

◆ Travis Rose, Wells County, murder. Sentenced Jan. 8, 1996, to 25 years. Hearing 8 a.m. May 24. Putnamville Correctional Facility via videoconference.

Pardon

◆ John C. Rose, Noble County, two counts of rape and criminal deviate conduct. Sentenced June 24, 1984, to six years.

◆ Gordon Springer, Wells County, public indecency. Sentenced Nov. 13, 1998, to a suspended 60-day jail term and one year of probation.

◆ Keith Gavura, Whitley County, forgery. Sentenced Sept. 24, 1990, to six years. DeKalb County, theft. Sentenced May 10, 1991, to 1½ years. Allen County, forgery. Sentenced July 29, 1991

Hearings start at 9 a.m. May 30 and May 31 at the Indiana Government Center South, 302 W. Washington St., Indianapolis, in conference room five on the first floor.

Prince of Mecca dies at 65 in U.S.

Associated Press

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia – Prince Abdul-Majid bin Abdul-Aziz, the governor of Islam's holy city of Mecca, died Saturday after a long illness, a Saudi Arabian royal statement said. He was 65.

Abdul-Majid, who was the half-brother of Saudi King Abdullah, was flown to the United States where he died after sudden health deterioration, the statement said.

The brief statement did not provide any other details about the cause of death or say exactly where the prince died in the U.S. It said he had undergone a surgery earlier and had traveled back to Saudi Arabia, but was flown back to the U.S. when his condition worsened.

Abdul-Majid is the 33rd son of the kingdom's founder, the late King Abdul-Aziz, who had 36 sons.

In 1985, King Fahd appointed Abdul-Majid, who has one son, Faisal, as governor of the holy city Medina.

Fifteen years later, Abdul-Majid became the head of Mecca.

Warsaw

By Dionne Waugh
The Journal Gazette

A Warsaw man who abducted and raped a woman with his girlfriend's help in 1995 is seeking clemency from the Indiana Parole Board this month.

A Kosciusko County judge sentenced Jeffrey B. Flora, then 24, to 50 years in prison in 1996 after he pleaded guilty to rape, criminal deviate conduct and criminal confinement.

Flora, now 35, abducted a then 39-year-old woman as she walked along Winona Avenue in Warsaw in July 1995.

Flora, who had previous convictions for armed robbery and burglary, and his girlfriend demanded money. Then they took the woman behind a house where Flora raped her and the girlfriend prevented her from leaving.

During the ordeal, which lasted several hours, Flora and the girlfriend took the woman to her house, drove her car to northwest Indiana and discussed killing her before deciding to return to Warsaw, where the woman escaped.

Then-Kosciusko County Prosecutor David Kolbe said Flora's actions

Area districts sizing up state budget

Northeast Indiana schools will see increases in their finances

By Niki Kelly
The Journal Gazette

INDIANAPOLIS – A week after legislators passed a state budget that includes at least $600 million in new dollars for K-12 education, area districts are beginning to understand how the money will flow down to help students.

Though the average increases statewide are 3.9 percent in 2008 and 4 percent in 2009, the complex school funding formula affects each district differently.

In essence, lawmakers start with a foundation amount for each student. Schools can earn extra dollars depending on the complexity index of their students, which means whether they are eligible for free and reduced lunch.

Growing schools also get a bonus, and those with declining enrollment or those districts whose dollars per pupil are higher than the state average slowly see their money equalized.

For the first time, House Democrats did not push for a minimum guarantee – a tool that essentially promised all districts new money whether they have new students or not.

And only a handful of districts around the state will receive less money than they did in the previous year, none in northeast Indiana.

On top of the base money, legislators increased money to educate students who don't speak English proficiently, added testing and remediation and provided textbook reimbursement for all low-income students.

West Noble Schools will see one of the highest increases, with 6.2 percent and 6.8 percent over the next two years.

Superintendent Dave Speakman said his district does well in the formula because it continues to gain students and has a relatively high population of kids learning to speak English.

He does quibble with including the textbook reimbursement dollars into the percentage increase because it is not new money for the school to spend.

Under state law, schools are required to provide free or reduced-priced textbooks for low-income kids. The state is supposed to reimburse the schools but in past years hasn't paid the full amount.

In the last state budget, lawmakers allowed schools to raise property taxes to cover the difference. So this year's attempt to fully finance the reimbursement means a savings to taxpayers, but no new dollars for schools to spend.

Southwest Allen County Schools Superintendent Brian Smith also said the state's numbers are a little misleading.

Southwest Allen is scheduled to get 2.2 percent and 2.9 percent increases over the next two years – numbers that sound pretty good until you realize the district is expected to enroll almost 250 more students as well.

In fact, Smith said the district will actually lose $16 per student compared with the finances last year.

This is because the average amount spent on each Southwest Allen student is above the state foundation grant, which kicks in an equalization formula to try and bring them down.

"My preference is to try to bring other schools up to that level instead of trying to bring us down, but we think equalization is a good thing," Smith said. "It will be an awful lean year for us next year."

Mark Gould understands lean. As superintendent of Hamilton Commu-

Area dog laws on tighter leash

State's code vanishes for a year, reappears

By Kara Lopp
The Journal Gazette

ROME CITY– As the owner of two Jack Russell terriers, Victor Hernandez is concerned about the number of dogs that are consistently running free through his neighborhood.

There's one dog who is notorious for chasing cars, and others wander into his yard when his own small dogs are tethered outside while he's doing yard work.

A neighbor was recently cited by the Noble County Sheriff's Department for letting her dog run free. For those reasons, the Jones Lake resident said he supports his county's recent move to enact a stray-dog ordinance.

"As a pet owner you should be responsible for your animals," Hernandez said, his 6-year-old and 16-week-old dogs sitting in his doorway. "If it takes the county stepping in to give a warning and then hit your pocket, that's fine."

Noble County officials recently created their own ordinance to deal with owners who allow their dogs to run wild after the state law they relied on was abolished in July. Other counties were preparing to do the same.

But after state legislators passed a new stray-dog ordinance last week it appears the state law will be back on the books by July, though state legislators don't know why the law was dropped.

These ordinances, sometimes known as "leash laws," have been in place in some area counties, such as LaGrange and Huntington, for years. Violators receive a written citation that is filed with the county clerk's office. A judge decides, based on the ordinance, the fine or punishment.

Four to eight hours a day of marching and other mental and physical endurance challenges were not enough for a Fort Wayne Army Ranger to earn a top spot among other soldiers in this elite squad.

But there will be other competitions, and Capt. Brad Davies said he's looking forward those challenges.

The 26-year-old was one of 78 active-duty soldiers to participate in the Army's 24th annual Best Ranger Competition at Fort Benning, Ga., last month.

Warsaw native 2nd Lt. Jacob Sweatland, with the 25th Infantry Division in Hawaii, also participated.

Army Rangers are infantry soldiers who have completed specialized training in adverse weather, at night, on rugged terrain and in water. These soldiers can be deployed anywhere in the world with a minimum of 18 hours' notice.

To become a Ranger, soldiers must graduate from a 62-day school, which is split into three phases.

"Each phase is equally grueling and hellacious and painful, and it sucks," Davies said. "But if you're lucky enough to go and lucky enough to graduate you're a

This particular Tuesday morning wasn't any different when a cameraman lugged his equipment into Joyner's office.

"Do you want to do this in here or somewhere else?" the cameraman said.

They decided to take it to another room, where the mid-morning sunlight wouldn't interfere with the camera shot.

The cameraman set up his gear and had Joyner stand less than 2 feet in front of him. He turned on a spotlight and started rolling.

After one false start, Joyner, who is referred to by police Chief Rusty York and others as "the face of the Fort Wayne Police Department," got it right.

He explained the circumstances of and being a full-time PIO they depend upon me to get them that information," Joyner said, using the abbreviation for "public information officer."

As the "face" of the police department, Joyner spends much of his time providing information to the media about crimes and investigations. But representing the police department means more than typing up written statements and giving five-minute TV interviews. He also works to find ways to improve the police department and build relationships in the community.

Since he was a boy, Joyner wanted to be a police officer. After working in the private sector for more than a decade, he decided to pursue that dream and joined the department in 1994.

He started in the department's public information office in June 2000. He left in February 2001 to again pursue a career in the private sector, but after 11 months came back to the department.

He spent some time away from the public information office after his re-

Graham Richard's office and acted as liaison between the department and mayor's office. The mayor eventually decided the police presence in the office was not necessary and Joyner returned to the department.

He returned to duty as a patrol officer briefly and then was reinstated to the public information officer position in 2004.

It's typical for him to be interviewed on television, radio and for the newspapers. He has been interviewed for national television, most recently by CourtTV about a highly publicized March 17 robbery and beating of an employee at GNC on Dupont Road.

Ted Linn, news director for WANE-TV, said Joyner does a good job of getting across information in on-camera interviews.

"He gets to the gist of it," Linn said. "He speaks in short sentences. He tells us what we need to know. He doesn't get bogged down in too much police jargon. He knows what we want."

Joyner enjoys working with the Hi Carol. Hi Lee.

I tried to e-mail you a response to your e-mail (that very day!) but I just seemed to lose it + Gary + I couldn't retrieve it (argh)
so I am trying "snail mail."
Letter enclosed. Love, be nervous about anethesia. If he has that surgery, I hope they can do better with that product.

Okay, we are getting close to Tax Day. Are you done? With your situation, I would think you could get an extension. You sure deserve it.

Are you getting your medical appointments in? Maybe you did some of that when Julie was there. I hated to hear about her accident — and the incompetant officer who let the "witness/ "cause of the accident" go without these golden years are so tough! But when you can just attend to your new home + Lee is feeling better, we can hope for a better life quality ... and no stains!?

I'm surprised Lee doesn't like the Tempur Pedic! Do they need to replace it because it is sinking? We like ours, but Gary's side is sinking some + we are FAR from the 20 years guaranteed.

You were going to see a Cardiologist when you wrote ... and have a special stress test. How did that go? Any useful info gained? And the biopsy on Lee's jaw? I can understand why you wanted help you. Must have been her Spring Break? So did that help? Did you order the new toilet, get carpet, cabinets wiped, as you mentioned. I'm so impressed you already got the painting done to be ready for your house sale. Won't it be a relief to have that sold, even if you'll miss it? You've not had much chance to just be happy in your new home. Maybe you will love it better when you can just "Relax" and "Be Home". Boy,

Hi Carol,

Your note of March 19 sounded like you are still crazy busy. I was glad to read that Lee is doing better ... a ways to go, but a little better. Carol, for how many weeks/months will Lee have therapists (3 kinds) coming? Once that subsides you both will have more time to do what you need to. Thank God they are coming to your house!! And then to squeeze in other important appointments around the therapists - whew! In my e-mail I wrote/asked if you had some "helpers" - family, friends, etc. Then Mom said she called you and Julie was coming to rambling. I just wanted to write you a letter that won't disappear into cyber-space!

Carol, take care... think of you often. Remember, one step at a time + hold the Lord's hand hard and let him lead. I will say, you are an inspiration to me as you tackle all that you have.

Take care.

Love,

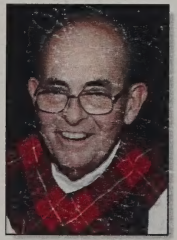
getting their information. How crazy was that!! Sure hope she is healing and getting the insurance + car thing settled. I know Ashley, Sue's daughter, seem to have to wait a few years for settlement. Don't let Julie "sign-off" too soon - make sure she is healed.

Mom's house is stagnant as far as a sale. We sure hope she gets some action as the weather warms. I look forward to her being in a less work, upkeep, cost place. And near the family. 2 hrs and more away has been too far.

Well, I will stop



It is not the length of life, but the depth of life.
